

Virginia Safety & Health Golf Outing

June 15, 2004

Countryside Golf Club, Roanoke, Virginia

Start the Virginia Occupational Safety and Health conference off with a round of golf!

What better way to get acquainted with other professionals in your line of business than by playing 18 holes of golf? Sponsored by The Greater Tidewater and The Colonial Chapters of the American Society of Safety Engineers (ASSE), the Virginia Safety and Health Golf outing tees off at 1 PM on June 15, 2004 at the Countryside Golf Club. Built in 1967 on the "Old Kinsey Dairy Farm," participants will be pleased with Countryside's challenging course and all for an entry fee of only $27.

If you are interested in participating, there is no need to pre-register and no need to pre-pay. The ASSE has negotiated a special low fee to participants in the golf outing. The Countryside Golf Club is located just a short drive down from the Hotel Roanoke. To take advantage of this low rate of $27, which includes 18 holes of golf a use of a golf cart, simply sign up at the golf club pro-shop.

ADDITIONAL BONUS:

While you are signing up for your relaxing round of gold at the pro-shop, you will receive some free snacks and soft drinks, a small bag loaded with golfing goodies, and participate in a drawing to win gift certificates for the pro-shop.

Countryside Golf Club

Countryside Golf Club is centrally located just minutes from downtown Roanoke and the area's best restaurants and hotels. It is just two miles off Interstate 581, four miles from Interstate 81 and three miles from the Roanoke Regional Airport. Countryside's Ellis Maples designed 18-hole championship course mixes the beauty of the surrounding area with a unique and challenging layout. Rolling fairways, undulating greens, lakes, streams, and strategically placed bunkers are just a few of the challenges you'll face on your way to an incredible golf experience. Golf Digest rates Countryside Golf Club three and a half stars.
